There are two important rules to keep in mind when utilizing APA style:

1. Each entry on the References page should correspond to at least one parenthetical, or in-text, citation.
2. Parenthetical citations should be included for clarity and accuracy.

Parenthetical (In-text) Citations

APA uses the author-date method of citation. The last name of the author and the date of publication are inserted in the text. When referencing or summarizing a source, provide the author and year. When quoting or summarizing a particular passage, include the specific page or paragraph number as well.

Work by one author

In one developmental study (Smith, 1990), children learned...

OR

In the study by Smith (1990), school children...

OR

In 1990, Smith's study of primary school children...

Works by multiple authors

When a work has two authors cite both names every time.

When a work has more than three authors cite using the first author's last name and "et al."

Masserton et al. (1989) state that... <-----every time (7th ed. update!)

Multiple works by same author

Sanchez (2018a)

Sanchez (2018b)

itemize the works by adding a lowercase letter to the date on both the reference page and in-text citation

Works by no identified author

("key words of article title," date)

The site seemed to indicate support for homeopathic drugs ("Medical Miracles," 2009).

Use quotation marks around the title of an article, chapter, or web page. Italicize the title of a periodical, book, brochure or report.

Multiple works in same parenthetical citation

Several studies (Jones & Powell, 1993; Peterson, 1995; Smith 1990) state that...

Put authors in order they appear in reference list (alphabetically) with semicolons in between.

Specific parts of a source

(last name, pub date, page number)

The painting was assumed to be by Fo, but analysis showed it to be a forgery (Murphy, 1999, p. 85)

If a source has no page numbers, cite a paragraph number. It is also appropriate to cite a specific chapter, table, or slide).
